SAFETY RECALL CAMPAIGN
LT-R450K6 QUADRACER ATVs
FRAME WELDING/REPLACEMENT

Dear Suzuki Owner,

This notice is sent to you in accordance with the requirements of the Consumer Product Safety Act.

What is the reason for this notice?

Suzuki Motor Corporation has decided that a defect which relates to product safety exists in certain 2006 model year LT-R450K6 QuadRacer ATVs. In cooperation with the U.S. Consumer Product Safety Commission, Suzuki Motor Corporation is conducting a voluntary Safety Recall Campaign for these ATVs.

What is the problem?

Suzuki Motor Corporation has determined that certain 2006 model year QuadRacer ATVs have a rear suspension cushion lever mounting bracket on the ATV frame that can break under certain high-stress conditions. The rear suspension cushion lever, which connects the rear shock absorber and the ATV swing arm, is bolted to this mounting bracket. It is possible that very high stress from making jumps and landing with the rear brake applied can impart forces to the suspension lever mounting bracket, in the area around the bracket mounting hole, which can cause the mounting bracket to break apart. If the mounting bracket breaks apart, the rider could lose control of the ATV, possibly resulting in injury or death.

▲ WARNING

2006 model year LT-R450K6 QuadRacer ATV

What is Suzuki doing to solve the problem?
